On December 19, 2021, TikTok introduced a feature called "Profile Verification" in India. The feature was made to allow users to verify their identity on the app by sending their government-issued identification card number to TikTok. The company announced that the feature would show up as an option in the parental control settings of people who had verified their identities. The feature was only available for people aged 18 and over and did not verify names or email addresses. In addition, the company said it would not use the information for any other purpose other than verifying age on the platform. In an interview with NDTV, Jigar Shah, CEO and founder of TikTok said that they had not created profiles in other countries and that verification was only meant to stop people from registering without giving any information. On August 2, 2021, TikTok stopped offering the feature stating "We have received feedback from a majority of our users who do not wish to share their ID card numbers. We will continue to develop other features that can match identities using information such as phone number or email address." The company said it would continue to consider adding the feature in the future with new technology.",

Although TikTok's founders are Chinese and they launched their Chinese version first, the app is a global phenomenon. According to Play Store Google Analytics data from December 2021, the app is used in 173 countries and can be downloaded in 43 different languages. It was reported that half of TikTok's users are aged between 17-24 (51%) while 73% of all users are female. It is most popular in India over

This is considered by some experts to be unfair because it requires subscribers (which are estimated to be over 100 million) to pay just so they can be allowed to post their own content onto the platform. The fact that this feature can be used to prevent people from sharing content which they should be allowed to post has also concerned some users. Another concern with this particular aspect of TikTok's business model is that it may be a violation of the app's terms and conditions as well as the policies of any app stores where TikTok is installed. To access TikTok, a user must agree to the app's terms and conditions when they have downloaded it onto their device. For example, users on both Google Play and the Apple Store agree not only to allow TikTok to access their location but also "to use your name, likeness, and voice in connection with commercial, sponsored or related content ("endorsements"), either identified or anonymous. You agree that if you wish for your Content to remain anonymous, or your public profile does not contain your real name, you will not use your real name in connection with any Endorsements." This suggests that a user may be required to pay in order to retain their anonymity while posting videos on TikTok (this is because the app may ask them to use their real name and/or add other details such as their age while posting their video). The term "endorsement" (as defined by the Oxford dictionary) means: "the action of publicly expressing approval and support of somebody/something by a gesture (such as a wave or an item of clothing) or words. The act of publicly advertising a product or service by an individual or organization.""

In an article published by TechCrunch, it was alleged that "TikTok, one of the world's most popular apps, is slowly turning into a massive source of income for the company. It's not just making money from ads, but also recently started selling ad inventory to advertisers who bought a specific part of its user base." It continued by stating that "It has become so popular in terms of revenue that it is now its own third quarter and second-quarter closing numbers." This article was published on TechCrunch.",

In February 2021, it was revealed that TikTok had reached a deal with Chinese search engine Baidu to launch a new feature called "Selfie Scoring". The photo filter feature is activated by users pressing the "Camera" button on their app which takes a selfie photo and gives immediate feedback for the degree of fidelity to the typical ideal body ideal presented by research studies while also using facial recognition technology to rate how well or poorly they met this criteria. These ratings are accompanied by a star rating on the app's interface itself and can be seen through each user's account page on TikTok's website.", Recently, TikTok has announced to have a new feature where users can now translate their favourite music videos on the app into different languages. TikTok also wants to broaden its capabilities of providing different types of content to its users through various features such as music translation and easy collaboration between artists from different parts of the world. According to an official press release from TikTok, "the company believes that music is a universal language and by incorporating translation features and intuitive collaborations it aims to connect with international users by breaking language barriers.â€• This is just one of the many ways that TikTok is trying to make its app more appealing to users, and maybe even compete with other social media apps.",

At the end of 2021, Hot video launched a new update that added the mode "GIF" to Tiktok FYP. Unlike the previous version, GIF is a motion photo app while Tiktok FYP is a motion short video app. Unlike Tiktok FYPâ€™s 15 sec-long motion video, GIF can be created up to 6 seconds long and can be shared with friends on both social media accounts and through text messages. This allows users to record videos on their phone and then convert them into GIFs using the app. Users are also able to view and follow other peopleâ€™s GIFs without having to follow them on Instagram or Snapchat. The conversion is called "GIF View". Another benefit of this update is it allows users to create their GIFs directly into the app without having to download a separate application.",
